Symposium II
Aug 4, 2018
Candle House, rooms 104 and 105

Viruses Rule the World

Opening remarks 8:55am

9:00am - 9:45am
Katrine Whiteson
What doesn’t kill you makes you stronger: Phage-host battles in human microbial communities
Assistant Professor,
Molecular Biology and Biochemistry
School of Biological Sciences
Associate Director, UCI Microbiome Initiative
University of California, Irvine

10:00am -10:45am
Matt Sullivan
Tracking viruses in nature: Patterns, processes and paradigms throughout the global ocean
Associate Professor
Department of Microbiology
The Ohio State University
Columbus, Ohio

10:45am -11:15am COFFEE BREAK
11:15am - 12:00pm  Lisa Ziegler Allen
Assistant Professor
Microbial and Environmental Genomics Dept
JCVI, La Jolla, CA

12:00pm - 1:30pm LUNCH BREAK

1:30pm – 2:15pm  Julie Pfeiffer
How gut bacteria enhance enteric virus infection
Professor of Microbiology
University of Texas Southwestern Medical Center
Dallas, Texas
Maynard and Suzanne Goldman Endowed Lecturer

2:30pm – 3:15pm  Kimberly Seed
Recurring conflicts with a single predatory phage drive the evolution of Vibrio cholerae
Assistant Professor
Dept of Plant and Microbial Biology
Berkeley University of California,
Berkeley, California

Closing remarks